WHERE ARE PARTY LINES?

One newspaper editor comes out with the demand that Herbert Hoover immediately let the world know whether he is a Republican or a Democrat. In answer to this the New York World asks whether anybody would know any more about Hoover and for what he stands if he made such an announcement.

If there are any party lines now they are wobbly and faded. There are no short issues. Somebody may say the treaty is an issue. It is true that Democrats and Republicans drew the party line in voting a few months ago, but now there are some Democrats who have adopted the Republican way of thinking and some Republicans who have the Democratic viewpoint.

It begins to look as though the voters will vote for a man instead of a set of policies.

DOORKNOB OVERLOOKED.

Dr. Rupert Blue of the United States public health service declares that cleanliness is the greatest foe of influenza and he suggests many ways of keeping clean. He urges keeping away from crowds, bathing often, keeping the hands clean, the linen clean, and utensils clean.

But Dr. Blue and others have overlooked one thing and it is strange that more is not said about one efficient object for the transmission of filth and that is the doorknob.

Have you ever stopped to think of the many kinds of hands which come in contact with doorknobs and the kind of filth that may be left upon the object to be transmitted to the next person who grasps the knob?

Someday somebody will invent an appliance whereby all doors will be opened by the pressure of the foot.

UTAH AND SUFFRAGE.

In view of the interest now taken in the question of woman suffrage with states rapidly ratifying the proposed amendment, D. W. Parratt, secretary of the Utah State Historical society, sends us the following letter:

Of course you are aware that a very great deal is being said these days in relation to woman suffrage, and perhaps interested in the matter throughout the country was never at a higher pitch than at present. It occurs to us that you may be interested in knowing that fifty years ago the twelfth of next month the following act passed by the nineteenth annual session of the legislative assembly of the Territory of Utah was regularly approved.

AN ACT.

Conferring upon women the elective franchise. (Approved Feb. 12, 1870.)

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the governor and legislative assembly of the Territory of Utah: That every woman of the age of 21 years who has resided in this territory six months next preceding any general or special election, born or naturalized in the United States, or who is the wife, widow or the daughter of a native-born or naturalized citizen of the United States, shall be entitled to vote at any election in this territory.

Sec. 2. All laws or part of laws conflicting with this act are hereby repealed.

UTAH AND IRRIGATION.

The statements made at the Irrigation and Drainage Congress convention that Utah once was a leader in irrigation but has lost much of that prestige through inactivity hurts but the assertions are true.

In the past fifteen years we have read article after article about huge reclamation projects completed, underway or begun in Idaho. We have watched the barren sage brush waste of the Twin Falls-Burley district fade away to be replaced by a wide expanse of rich farm land dotted with substantial farm dwellings as numerous as freckles on a red haired country boy's face.

Where there were hundreds of settlers fifteen years ago, there are thousands now and all through irrigation.
And Idaho is not resting. From Washington comes the announcement of another immense project to be carried out in the vicinity of American Falls.

In the neighboring states of Arizona and New Mexico, great strides have taken place in irrigation in the last ten years. Utahans have read all about these huge projects and have heard of the great increase in wealth resulting to those states.

Meanwhile, what has been done in Utah? There has hardly been a project carried out that compares even in a small way to the projects of the neighboring states.

There is a project on foot for Weber county. It is a big thing for the county and will mean a vast increase in the county's wealth. Yet it is a small project as compared to those undertaken and completed elsewhere.
Still it is a fine start in the right direction and the hope is expressed that Utah will soon catch up with itself in the matter of irrigation.

WOOD ALCOHOL AND GRAIN ALCOHOL.

The deaths resulting from drinking wood alcohol have provoked many inquiries as to why wood alcohol produces results so different from grain alcohol when in many respects, the properties of the two are similar and the two contain the same elements.

Grain alcohol is given the term "grain" because much of it is distilled from grain, such as corn. Wood alcohol is obtained by distillation from wood.

Nearly everybody knows the effects of drinking grain alcohol and quite a number now know what disastrous results follow the imbibing of the poisonous liquid.

The effects of the first wear off rather quickly because the organs of the body eliminate the drug, but in the case of wood alcohol there is no rapid elimination. Instead the wood alcohol after it enters the system is broken up into formic acid and some scientists believe that acetone or formaldehyde is formed. All are poisons.

Violent headache, nausea and vomiting follow the drinking of the poison and the action which takes place in the system. Degeneration of the gan-glion cells of the retina often takes place and there is permanent or temporary blindness as a result.

Wood alcoholic poisoning symptoms result even when wood alcohol is rubbed upon the body.

An intelligent citizen can go through life without danger of being poisoned by wood alcohol but when the thirsty begin craving liquor and accept whatever the bootlegger hands out to them, the experiences of persons in many cities leads one to believe that the thirsty are taking chances.

DEER, WITH ANTLERS LOCKED, FALL TO DEATH IN LAKE

Reports from the Bridger national forests in Wyoming, received at the local forest service offices, are to the effect that two buck deer, interlocking their horns while fighting, fell into Bridger lake and were drowned.

The horns were recovered by forest rangers and it was found that the combined strength of several men was not sufficient to break the interlocked horns loose.

The elk situation in that district is much better, the elk leaving the bottoms and side hills to graze above the timber line, where winds have blown the snow away.

Recent good weather is reported to have materially relieved the hay situation in that vicinity.

Borah Sees No Sign of Cutting Expenses

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, told the senate Friday there was not the "slightest evidence that congress proposed to carry out the special promise of the Republican party to reduce government expenditures."

Opposing the bill for creation of a united government air service bureau of its cost, Senator Borah said many cases of extravagance in this country were just as great now as they were during the war.

"The Republican party made the special promise in the last campaign to reduce government expenditures," the senator said. "But there is not the slightest evidence that this Republican congress proposes to carry out that promise."

"A platform committee of 173 varieties has been created. I wanted to remind others on this side of the chamber that this congress will make the platform with its record here. The gifted gentlemen who are to give us the platform cannot convince the people against the record being made here."

Boy Scouts to Aid In Preventing Fires

District Supervisor L. F. Kneipp has departs for Logan, where he will address a convention of scoutmasters.
Eighty scoutmasters will be present at the meeting.

It was announced today that the forest service is taking active co-operative measures with Boy Scout organizations. Through this organization, the forest service realizes that great assistance can be derived, it is stated, especially in the matter of checking the human element in the matter of forest fires.

In return for services that may be rendered by the scouts, the forest officials are arranging summer camps in the forest reserves for the boys and are offering assistance in the matter of nature study and other details of Organized Field Army of 2,000,000 Forecast

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Mobilization of an organized field army of two million men would be possible within five years after passage of the senate army reorganization bill, Chairman Wadsworth of the senate military committee, said Friday in his report to the senate on the measure. The cost would not exceed $50,000,000 annually, he said.

Including the permanent standing army of 298,000 and the citizens' army and national guard, as proposed, the measure through its compulsory military training plan, would permit the mobilization next year of an army of 1,198,000 men, the report continued.
Youths trained would be passed into the citizens' reserve army and in 1926 the nation's available military strength would be 3,345,000 officers and men, while the cost per man would be reduced from $509 in 1921 to $176 in 1926.
